Alliance Leaves Out for Coos Bay—Roanoke Due in—Costa Rica Sails This Morning—New Gas Buoy—Note and Comment.

The schooner James A. Garfield cleared at the custom house yesterday afternoon, for San Francisco, with a big load of lumber.

The British steamer Mackinaw arrived from Portland yesterday morning early, and is at anchor off the O. R. & N. piers, waiting a lull in weather conditions, to return to Seattle.

The British bark Duchalburn reported one ship and three barks off the bar when she came in port, but nothing came in from that sphere yesterday, owing to the adverse weather conditions.

The steamer Alliance arrived down from Portland at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, with plenty of people for the Coos country. She left out at 8 o'clock, after taking on several passengers at the Callender dock.

The steamship Costa Rica arrived down from Portland last night at midnight, and will depart for San Francisco, at 10 o'clock this morning, from the O. R. & N. piers.

Eight men of the crew of the American ship Henry Villard were paid off at the custom house yesterday afternoon, for the trip from Australia to this port; the sum involved was in the neighborhood of $300.

The new gas buoy which has been asked for by the men in marine interest hereabout, at the mouth of the Columbia river, will shortly be installed there near the anchorage of Buoy No. 8, and will be kept until it is proven that it will stand the stress of the tides as they play at that point. If it holds alright, it will be lit and will figure among the permanent aids to navigation in the harbor at the mouth.

The fine French barks Europe and Crillon have been shifted from the lower harbor to convenient points off Tongue Point, and will both leave up for Portland this morning on the hawsters of the Harvest Queen and the Oklahoma, which steamers came down late last night for this purpose.

Two of the Callender fleet of tugs are lying-up at the company's docks in this city, the Vanguard, with a lid on her funnel, and apparently out of commission; and the Wenona undergoing repair and painting. The latter will shortly resume her Gray's River run, now supplied by the big launch Queen.

The steamship Roanoke is on the list of expected arrivals at this port, from California. She should have been in last evening but did not show up, and is expected at the Callender docks this morning. She is one of the real popular craft sailing out of here, and most people like to keep posted on her movements.

Notice to Mariners.

Capt. James Gaudin, agent Marine & Fisheries Department, of Canada, reports that the fog-alarm on Pachena Point, Vancouver Island, is in operation and that the signal consists of a six-second blast with a silent interval of 90 seconds.

JOHN McNULTY, Nautical Expert.

The gale of yesterday morning caused the French ship Thiers, and the British ship Wavertree, to drag anchors; the former touching with her stern on the sands to the northward of Beacon No. 8, in the lower harbor, and the latter going a bit further and lodging on the shoals of Sand Island. But both are in easy positions and will be free without damage before many hours have passed. They are resting easily.

There seems to be a misunderstanding about the sailing of the steamship Senator from San Francisco, for this port and Portland. The Oregonian, of yesterday, had her leaving the Bay City at noon on Monday last, but the O. R. & N. officials here say that it is not yet known that the chrater has been concluded, and that if it has she would not leave San Francisco on the run before the sailing schedule of the steamship City of Panama, which is due to have left there yesterday at high noon. At all events she will be welcome whenever she gets here. The Panama will go back to the lower coast fruit trade.

A United States deputy marshal met the steamship Mackinaw when that vessel arrived here from Portland yesterday, and levied process in libel against her in behalf of the company owning and operating the Albina ferry there, for the destruction of the ferry cable. The matter is likely to be settled early today, and the vessel will proceed with her voyage.

It is said that the ship that approached the light-ship on Saturday last and megaphoned the message that she had a couple of injured men who had fallen from aloft and needed the attention of surgeons, was simply working "her passage over the bar," an old-time trick with masters eager to get into port after a long and trying voyage. No further word has been heard of the injured men, nor is it known what ship filed the report.

Commander P. J. Werlich, lighthouse inspector of the Thirteenth District, has posted the following notice to mariners:

Washington—Fales Landing Light, pg. 36, No. 152 (List of Lights, Buoys, and Daymarks, Pacific Coast, 1907, page 66).—Located close to the bank on the easterly side of the Columbia River, and in the county road at Fales Landing.
